

Agencies to discuss airfield

By JACK C. VENTIMIGLIA
Executive Editor

Endangered airspace important to the area's future will be discussed in a meeting this week.

Last airspace can never be replaced, and area agency and government officials plan to review if they should do anything about plans to sell nearby Nichols airfield.

The meeting will be exploratory, according to Mary Kane, executive director for the Leadership Council Southwest Illinois. The day and time were not set, she said Friday.

Kane said a representative from St. Louis-Downtown Parks Airport in Cahokia is expected to attend.

There is no interest in the airfield at this time, according to Larry Mullendore, airport director for Parks. He said Parks, which is owned by the Bi-State Development Agency, will attend the meeting to review the area.

Mullendore added he is aware of, and agrees with, the General Aviation Systems Plan which has recommended retaining Nichols field. He did not know who might be able to buy the field from Nichols, who put a price of $1 million on the property.

The airfield will be sold for development if not purchased soon for airport use, Nichols has stated.

Collinsville Mayor Gene Brombolich and Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse have both expressed interest in seeing the airfield retained. The field is between both communities, near Illinois 111, State Aid 35 and a planned stretch of Interstate 255.

"The important thing now is we get an airport and don't lose those air rights," Cruse said Friday.

He added, "What's important is the airfield itself — not who's going to manage it."

Collinsville, Granite City and Parks officials will attend the meeting, Kane said. Also invited are representatives of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, the Tri-City Regional Port District, and the aeronautics division of the Illinois Department of Transportation.

The $1 million price set by Nichols could be substantially less for a local agency if federal funds are involved. If the federal government agrees, they could pay up to 95 percent of the purchase price, with another 5 percent paid by the state, leaving as little as $50,000 to be paid locally.

But Kane noted, "The federal government will not pay more than the appraised value."

She said she does not know the land's value.

Kane added she did not know if Nichols would be invited to participate in the discussion.

City funds teen program

By SUSAN SIGAIGO-WEICH

Good times are planned for Granite City's teenagers.

A committee for youth was established and armed with $5,000 by the Granite City Township Board Tuesday night.

Trustee Woody Moad introduced both motions. He said township members expressed approval for the idea at the annual Town Board meeting in April.

He also moved for the township attorney, William Shooley Sr., to place $5,000 in the upcoming budget to be used for a "Teen Town and other youth activities."

Trustee Sam Whitmer questioned directing the township attorney to place the money in the budget.

"We should direct the supervisor (Nellie Hagnauer) to do this," he said.

"This is the township meeting," Moad replied. "Where in the hell is the supervisor? I'd be more than happy to tell him if he was here."

Several other trustees opposed the dollar figure in the motion.

"I'm in favor of the youth committee, but I'm not in favor of putting a dollar amount on the motion," said Trustee Jake Varadian. "Other groups and organizations in the township will be asking for the same."

Whitmer carried Varadian's comment further.

"If we appropriate money for this, money will have to be taken away from some other program or taxes will have to be raised," he said. "And according to the election promise of a candidate (Cruse), if taxes have to be raised, there has to be a referendum."

Schooley said the township has been in the black for some time. But he cautioned the trustees.

"The thing that has been keeping the township going has been the (See TEEN, Page 6A)

A family committed to religious life in Alaska with the Orthodox Church is visiting relatives in Madison.

The Rev. and Mrs. John Zabinko and son, Matthew, describe their lifestyle in Alaska as more varied and active than what many people might expect.

The family arrived May 16, traveling to Delaware to visit his relatives before coming to Madison for the remainder of the vacation trip.

The return home is scheduled for July 1. Mrs. Zabinko is the former Margaret Greene, daughter of Mrs. Sophia Greene of Madison.

"WHEN YOU TELL people you live in Alaska, they immediately visualize very cold temperatures and snow piled high above the roadways, or they think you are snowbound for the winter months," Mrs. Zabinko said.

"We live on the island of Kodiak, which is south of Anchorage and east of the Aleutian Islands," she added. Rev. Zabinko explained that this location is in the Japanese jet stream and, therefore, the "climate is wonderful. It is not extremely cold and there is very little snow, except on the mountains." Summer temperatures reach the 70-degree mark and 75 is considered "a real heat wave." To add to the ideal aspects of the weather, there is little or no humidity.

With the snap of a ribbon, Granite City officials recently welcomed a new business to the downtown area: Looking Good Family Hair Design, 1907 Delmar Ave.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony may have symbolized the beginning of a revival for downtown Granite City. Sharon Rogers, owner of the hair salon, said she was "very lucky when I was looking for a building that I ran into Dave Schermer."

Schermer, who owns the building that once housed Dior Photo, renovated the building after bricks tumbled from a roof facade and collapsed the awning last August.

"I bought it in January," he explained. "I took over a bad situation for a fellow who was not in the position to do the necessary repairs," including fixing up the exterior and interior, and bringing the wiring up to code standards. The remodeling inside the building included new paneling, carpeting and ceiling.

"I've only really begun (renovation). My investment at this point is not great...I'd say less than $10,000 so far," he said.

But the building at 1907 Delmar Ave. is not Schermer's only investment.

"I've been purchasing a little bit of property lately. I don't think the downtown area is ready to dry up and blow away," he said. Schermer said he and his partner, Buzz York Jr., now own the entire north corner of 19th Street and Delmar Avenue, including the buildings that house Walkers Jewelry and Herschel's TV. And he has plenty of second-story space available, although he hasn't determined what he will do with it all.

"I do have space above Herschel's that an equipment company uses for office space. I'd love to use the space above Looking Good for office space. I'd love to keep it commercial if possible," he said. But Schermer realizes secondstory office space is not in big demand and parking downtown is a problem. So if he can't rent the space commercially, he said, he will consider converting the space to apartments.

Another Schermer property between Walker's and Herschel's recently was leased to a wholesale bar supply store called Mr. Bar.

So far, Schermer has worked independently, but he said he would welcome assistance should Granite City obtain a planner or planning agency to assist in the redevelopment of the downtown area.

"I think there is a big requirement for city-sponsored direction for the downtown area," he said. "I think any property owner would be willing to work with an individual in that capacity. One of the problems is the question of, 'Are all the people who own property in the position to do that?'"

And although he would accept direction, Schermer is not so enthusiastic about accepting financial assistance from a government entity.

"Something like that may help, but with property values the way they are, it's profitable for me to go borrow at the bank at the current interest rate," he said. "I do it as an investment. I don't have any property that's not profitable. While it would be nice to borrow at something lower than the current rate, I don't think the interest rate will keep you out of the market. You're never going to get free money, so I wouldn't support it."

But Schermer admits mandatory design standards, such as a city sign ordinance, may be something downtown merchants would support, as long as such ordinances are "cohesive and consistent in the downtown area. I think it (a sign ordinance) should be part of a package."

Schermer, who noted "I don't have any buildings I'm ashamed of," said he is not the only property

'Buyer beware' on all F-16s

WASHINGTON — What would you think if the Justice Department announced that it was doing away with its subpoenas and grand juries and was going after underworld leaders by "begging" them to tell what they know, by promising to keep their testimony secret and by paying them for their information? You'd think the Justice Department had gone bonkers, wouldn't you?

Well, believe it or not, the Justice Department supports the Pentagon's identical handling of defense contractors who are asked to help with military investigations into fatal accidents, design errors and mechanical malfunctions involving weapons the contractors sell to the armed services.

We know, because our associates Donald Goldberg and Indy Badhwar filed a lawsuit under the Freedom of Information Act to get Air Force files on accidents, particularly the fatal crash of an F-16. That crash led the Air Force to ground all 269 of the $16 million General Dynamics aircraft, citing problems with the flight-control system.

Our associates hadn't even asked for details on the Air Force-General Dynamics contract for a total of more than 1,300 F-16s. It never occurred to them that the company wouldn't help the Air Force find out what went wrong with the planes that were coming off the General Dynamics assembly line. After all, even the cheapest new car on the market has some kind of warranty.

But here's how the situation was explained in a sworn statement by Lt. Col. Alex J. Ranciglio, legal adviser to the Air Force Inspection and Safety Center:

"The contractor shall be reimbursed costs incurred in connection with mishap investigation and related tests or analyses. Nothing I have found in the contract, however, specifically requires General Dynamics Corp. to provide evaluations and analyses after an aircraft mishap.

Jack Anderson

Further, there is no penalty provision in the contract governing the refusal of a contractor to provide such technical assistance.

Why protect any embarrassing information General Dynamics may have provided to the Air Force in the F-16 investigation? A Justice Department attorney explained in another sworn statement:

"It is important to the military branches that when investigating an accident, they have access to reports provided by the manufacturers without regard to possible adverse reflections — an apparent reference to public outrage over a $16 million plane that won't fly."

Further, the statement added, the candor of information supplied voluntarily in confidence may be substantially greater than that of information compelled to be produced with the knowledge that it will be made public.

Ranciglio made it clear that protection of defense contractors' embarrassing secrets is nothing new, nor is it confined to General Dynamics. It "has been the longstanding practice of the Air Force," he said, adding, "The defense contractors, including General Dynamics, are briefed on the confidentiality of the information... approximately every 18 months."

Drainage a sore subject

For the past 60 years, politicians have taken much pride in allocating huge sums of money for flood control. In fact, as I see it, if all that money was used for a project in the ground, we would have no drainage worries. I can't see that happening, however, because if it did, the politicians would have to show where the millions of dollars spent on studies went.

I have researched the problem for more than 20 years, and although I am not an expert, just a volunteer homeowner in a flood-hazard area, I have gathered much information concerning the problem of both surface and underground water.

We, the residents, must write to our congressmen, president, U.S. senators, governor and state representatives. We must tell them we are tired of the many studies and won't pay for another.

I have jotted down some facts you may want to write about. So many of you signed petitions over the years, and just recently, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thornberry conducted a huge petition drive, and your letters just may make a difference.

The "Little Panama Canal" plan started way back in the late 1920s. It was to intercept the drainage in the American Bottoms, as this area is called, and canal it to the Mississippi River south of Cahokia. The study entailed enormous costs and a practically impossible engineering feat by pumping the drainage from our water sheds into the river at flood stage. It wasn't built.

Studies continued over the years, and each time the cost has soared, both due to inflation and to an additional amount of construction on land so flood-prone that any drainage plan will be at great expense.

The Metro-East Levee and

Your views

HELEN HAWKINS is a former Nameoki Township trustee and for many years has worked for flood and stormwater drainage relief in the township.

Sanitary District maintains the Mississippi River dikes and pumps with the aid of the Corps of Engineers. This is supposed to protect the East St. Louis and Granite City areas, which lie in the flat river bottoms or flood plains. They built the Harding Ditch and other flood relief projects to channel flood waters to the river once they reach the lowlands. In the process, it has made some areas, which used to be old lake beds and swamps, habitable most of the year. One such area is the Doherty Slough.

In the early 1960s, the levee district, because of its questionable policies, had its bond-selling wings clipped and since then has been unable to put a bond issue to referendum. No more ditches or projects of any significance were built, but plenty of home sites, churches and schools were built in low places, risking floods during hard rains.

Every season, dry or not, the land is stripped of vegetation, and asphalt and roofs take the place of rain-holding trees. Officials allowing permits to build in low places ought to know better. They ought to know the ditches won't be big enough, there is not enough money and Man won't be equal to the power of Mother Nature. They need to assume that if it was under water before development, it will be under water again.

The problem of runoff obviously is a regional problem. The most local government entity receiving tax monies from both upland and bottomland communities is the state of Illinois.

The state also has an important stake in the matter because the interior flood problems affect state projects, including highways and especially the four state parks — Hohen, Cahokia Mounds, Lewis and Clark, and Horseshoe Lake.

A precedent was set by the state in its local sponsorship of other flood control projects, such as New Athens and the entire Kaskaskia project. Sponsorship has been pledged by former governors. The economics of the program would provide for benefits to the state of Illinois many times the cost of its involvement.

The principal point I am trying to make is that it would be most unfair to force the people who live in Granite City, Nameoki Township or other bottomland communities to pay for ever-increasing flood protection systems to handle the runoff from higher lands when they have no control over limiting that runoff. There is a limit to how much upland progress the bottomland residents can support, whether it is surface or underground water. The state should be the sponsor of our drainage programs for these principal reasons. The problem is beyond the resources or jurisdiction of any smaller government entity.

Residents of our area, including myself, became so angry about all the studies that in 1973 we hired attorneys to help us get something in the ground. Our actions were successful, but the state surface water pumps were temporary and the benefits of that program were to last 10 years or until the larger Hillside Drainage project was built. In other words, more studies.

While serving as township trustee in Nameoki Township, I called attention to the problems. I requested that the Corps of Engineers stop the studies and put something in the ground. That same year, they installed a groundwater pump, ran it 48 hours, pried it out and said it was only a test, that one pump would not be effective enough to do us any good and that studies would go on until 1990 or so.

I believe the Metro-East Sanitary District should sponsor the well pumps and pay the utility cost, as they are paying for the surface water utility costs in the Doherty Slough now, but district officials do not agree with this. They want funds from Granite City and Nameoki Township, and then they will pay some. This is where the problem always comes in, and then we are back into studies of who is to pay. In the meantime, we've lost the pump.

Our homes, churches, streets and sewers cannot wait another 60 years on studies.

Asks Harris to reconsider, cites need for comparisons

To the Editor:

Being a Granite City taxpayer since 1953, I wish to protest the publication of the 1985 reassessment listings only in the Edwardsville Intelligencer. It is not fair to the Granite City Press-Record, who would not have known that our property was assessed higher than several others of comparable value. After we went before the Board of Review, our property was reassessed. It is very unfair to expect Granite City taxpayers to go to Edwardsville just to buy a newspaper to find out what we are being assessed for here.

There are many who will never see the Edwardsville paper, due to:

1. Lack of transportation.
2. The inconvenience of going to Edwardsville.
3. Lack of knowing the exact date of publication.

The decision to save money is great, but it should not be done at the expense of the taxpayers.

To print only in Edwardsville is wrong. Mr. Harris, please be so kind as to reconsider.

County list causes hardship

To the Editor:

Well, the Board of Review's assessment supervisor in Madison County has decided to publish the list reflecting your and my taxes in the Edwardsville Intelligencer.

Edwardsville is a long distance away. I can't get there and can't afford long-distance telephone calls to the County Courthouse to see how much we are being reassessed.

The elderly also will be disappointed. It's so hard for them to try and pay their property taxes.

In this what the voters wanted?

I urge people to check on this before it's too late. They have a fight on their hands.

Is this town really 'take it for Granite City?' — No way

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH

Staff writer

While driving to work two weeks ago I tuned in to the "Morning Zoo" on KSHE-96.

The program has some unique listener-participation activities — one of them being the renaming of local cities, streets and bridges.

For instance, KSHE listeners have renamed the Poplar Street Bridge "The Poplar Street Bridge, and Lindbergh Boulevard is now Lindbergh Boulevard."

On that morning, a listener wrote in, suggesting that Granite City be renamed Take It For Granite City. The name was accepted by the station, and the D.J. who announced the change couldn't keep from laughing about it.

At first I thought the name was pretty cute, but the more I thought about it, the madder I got.

The reason I was so angry was because despite what I know about the city, the name was appropriate. After all, Granite City has been granted by just about everyone.

For me, the name was the icing on the cake. Granite City gets no respect and the suggestion proved it.

While working in Granite City the past three years, I've come across several examples.

When the newspaper offered local Girl Scouts a chance to earn a merit badge in journalism, I received a call from a woman in Edwardsville, whose daughter is a Girl Scout.

The woman seemed very interested in the program until she realized her daughter would have to commute to Granite City for several weeks and stay until about 5 p.m.

The woman told me how "dangerous" the downtown area was — she suggested her daughter would be attacked walking out to her car after work.

I was shocked. After all, I am a young woman, myself, and I have never worried about my safety before or after dark in Granite City.

I assured the woman that Granite City is a safe town and her daughter would be escorted to her car daily, but in the end, she decided her daughter should not participate in the program.

Another instance of ignorance I ran into happened last year, when the Veterans Administration considered moving its record center in St. Louis to the Granite City Army Installation.

Several hitches surrounded the move — one being the additional distance the employee would have to travel to get to the Granite City facility.

One VA employee who was quoted in a St. Louis paper was angered by the move, saying he would have to travel 15 additional miles each way. It was later learned that the Granite City Army Installation is nine miles from the St. Louis location.

A representative for the Army public affairs office was miffed by the comment. "Anyone making an issue about the distance to the new site, doesn't know where Granite City is located," he said.

It's apparent the VA employee is not the only one who doesn't know where Granite City is, or what it has to offer.

Granite City has a good school system — including its own college, a great park district with lots of programs, and a modern hospital, equipped with birthing rooms and an oncology unit, to name a few.

Granite City is accessible to any visitor, by car, boat, plane or train. And the people who live here are friendly.

So what's wrong with all those people who think Granite City is a "hick town" with nothing to offer?

The answer is simple. They've never been here.

Granite City is a "hick town" with nothing to offer.

The media must sometimes seem aloof and alone in ivory towers, sending down from on high criticisms of the powers that be.

Why is this attitude held, especially when the media at its best seeks to serve the public?

Tune in next week.

'Media Mandarin' column is not above those funny oranges

What's that 'mandarin' column about — oranges?

A few people have asked about this column's name, poking a little good-hearted fun. The name is a tongue-in-cheek one taken from a local civil libel case.

Belleville News-Democrat et al. were pitted against St. Clair County Board Chairman Jerry Costello, who said an editorial libeled him.

The editorial said Costello promised to fight Laves, but didn't deliver. A transit board was formed under his administration and a tax resulted. The paper said Costello lied.

Costello's attorney, Amiel Cueto, argued the editorial was reckless and untrue.

He warned against "media mandarins," powerbrokers who form public opinion.

Reporting in that courtroom, I smiled at Cueto's colorful language, envisioning editor Fu Man Chu stroking his two-pointed beard while sitting at his computer and considering who would be next to feel the wrath of his indomitable prose.

Cueto won $1.65 million for his client — another media mandarin was "most humbled." But Fu Man

She will display the handmade items from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Sunday, June 30, at the 5th annual craft show in the Wilson Park Ice Rink Pavilion. More than 70 artists and craftsmen will offer patrons a variety of handcrafted items from wooden puzzles, oil paintings, woodcraft, copper punch, ceramics and miniatures to European pastries, antiques and collectibles.

Park Craft Show June 30

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Porcelain collectibles, vivid bread-dough roses, wooden puzzles and European pastries will be among a plethora of craftwork offered patrons at the 1985 Summer Craft Show in Wilson Park.

The public exhibition will take place from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Sunday, June 30, in the Wilson Park Ice Rink Pavilion.

Admission to the Granite City Park District event is free and adequate parking is available.

SINCE ITS INCEPTION during the 1981 Fourth of July Festival at Wilson Park, each summer's craft show has attracted more and more artists and craftsmen from the Illinois-Missouri bi-state region. An increasing number of visitors has been noted each year, with a capacity flow of patrons viewing the exhibits last July.

This year's six-day Independence Day festivities in Wilson Park will commence at 1 p.m. Saturday, June 29, and conclude Thursday, July 4.

CARNIVAL RIDES, concession booths, musical shows and a mammoth fireworks display will be featured.

All work exhibited in the June 30 craft festival must be handcrafted, a requirement which also is met by those displaying items in the park district's Fall Craft Ideas Festival, according to Sue Champion, show coordinator.

Artist Bette Rea of Granite City will be back this summer to display delicately-painted porcelain eggs and "one of a kind" collector plates in the craft show.

Stand-up wooden animals, each section precisely carved to nestle inside another piece, are among the handcrafted puzzles to be offered by Harold Beckert of Greenville. He also creates interlocking toy trains and brightly painted biplanes.

ORIGINAL OIL PAINTINGS on canvas, reflecting restful scenes of woodlands, seashore and sparkling mountain streams, will be displayed by Beverly Brady of Pontoon Beach. Also returning this year is Mrs. John Cross, St. Louis, whose garden of "four to flower" roses is regarded as guaranteed to attract a host of patrons.

The roses are made by hand from dough in pastel and vivid hues and are washable. She also creates large and small afghans and wooden craft objects.

A COLLECTION of "cabbage patch" kids in hand-crocheted clothing will be presented by Marieta Daniels, who resides on Dogwood Drive in Granite City. She also makes wooden horses, rocking chairs and other doll furniture for members of the "patch" family.

Highly polished wooden novelty plaques inset with photographs or trophies will be offered by Michael Smith of St. Peters, Mo.

SURE TO DRAW will be the display of Mary Hostetter of St. Louis, whose gourmet pastries, cheesecakes and candies are widely known.

Among the featured goodies this year is Mary's Irish Apple cake, made with fresh-sliced apples and pecans and iced with cream cheese frosting.

Other exhibitors will present lifelike toy puppies and handmade teddybears, rock and shell creations, live house plants, copper punch items, baby quilts, handmade clocks, monogrammed gift articles, appliqued sweatshirts, ceramics, picture frames, tolecraft and tree skirts.

"There will be something for everyone," the craft show organizers promise.

Quarry may be no problem

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

Quiet Valley residents have nothing to fear from digging operations near their homes, according to a geotechnical engineer with John Mathes and Associates of Columbia, Ill.

"I don't feel they're in any great danger," said engineer Darrel Wolff. "The geological condition prevalent in the area is not such that the occurrence of, as they say, sucking sand is anywhere near the most likely problem they are experiencing out there."

What we have here is an emotional reaction from people looking at a landslide that occurred and saying, "That scares me." But I can understand that."

AFTER A PRIVATE business road collapsed into a lake June 11, residents called Pontoon Beach officials to express their concern about the quarry operation of Quality Sand Inc. The road and lake, located behind homes on Iris Avenue, are owned by Quality Sand, which digs for sand in the lake.

Because the lake has moved closer to their homes, some residents on Iris Avenue are concerned the lake could endanger their property if it continues to expand.

Pontoon Beach officials met with Wolff Wednesday to survey the area. From a visual inspection of the site and general knowledge of the geology of the area, Wolff concluded sand is not being sucked from under top soil surrounding the lake.

"IT'S VERY unlikely anything like this will happen again in the area," Wolff said of the road's collapse.

Wolff explained that an old sewage lagoon near the lake had been filled in, and that lagoon contributed to the collapse of the ground.

Some landowners in the area complained of sticking dogs from a possible sinking of their property due to the quarry's operations. But Wolff said any sinking of buildings may be due to the soil.

THE SOIL IN the American Bottoms includes a clay that swells and expands seasonally. "It's not unusual in that area for people to have cracks in their basements" because of the soil's action, he said.

Based on a "rough" calculation, Wolff said the property along Iris is safe as long as Quality Sand dredges 200 feet or more from the homes.

Village officials have estimated current dredging operations are 300 to 400 feet from the homes.

Pontoon Beach Trustee Don Rea, who met with Wolff Wednesday, said he is relieved by Wolff's preliminary findings.

"WE WERE overreacting. We were willing to spend thousands of dollars to make sure the property of the villagers was not endangered. He (Wolff) pretty well quieted those fears. Right now, from his input, I don't feel there's any hazard to the villagers or their property," Rea said.

Wolff expects to submit a report of his findings to Pontoon Beach officials in a week or 10 days.

When the road collapsed, Quality Sand owner Don Peacock said he was not endangering homes in the area and the collapse of the road was intentional.

PEACOCK SAID expansion toward the homes has stopped, and he now will expand the quarry eastward.

Quality Sand owns about 120 acres behind Iris Avenue. Peacock said his sand quarry was established long before the homes were built.

Reassessments to be published Tuesday

Assessment changes for property owners in Nameoki and Venice townships will be published in the Edwardsville Intelligencer Tuesday, June 25, according to the Madison County supervisor of assessments office.

The publication date for assessment changes in Chouteau and Granite City townships has not been set because reassessments in those townships have not been completed.

Nameoki Township officials said that only changes in property assessments, not all property assessments, will be published in the newspaper. Assessment changes are made by township assessors and the county Board of Review.

Persons dissatisfied with their assessment changes may wish to contact their local assessor before filing an appeal with the Madison County Board of Review, Nameoki Township officials advised. Forms for filing an appeal will be available at the Nameoki assessor's office beginning Tuesday.

The assessment changes will be published only in the Edwardsville Intelligencer. That decision was based on cost, according to the supervisor of assessments staff. Publishing the listings in the newspaper will cost $8,500, compared to a total of $24,000 when published in several county newspapers last year, it was asserted.

Nameoki Township Assessor Carl Macios said property owners whose assessments have been changed should receive a card notifying them of the change.

Real estate assessments for 1985 will be the basis for tax collection in 1986.

Meeting on well gets delayed

A meeting between officials in Nameoki Township, the Metro East Sanitary District and the Army Corps of Engineers about the operation of a well in the Dobrey Slough area has been delayed for a week.

MESD Executive Director Shang Greathouse said Friday Norma Hall, a Nameoki Township trustee, was out of town for a week and the meeting was delayed.

Hall is representing the township in the matter. The well was installed in January and area residents would like someone to take responsibility for operating it.

If no one does, the Corps will begin removing it.

"I'm going to call the Corps and request a delay of that," Greathouse said. "I want to get everybody here and talk about it. We could split the responsibility between the township, Granite City and the levee district, but we might be the ones everybody ends up calling."

The Corps has set a deadline of July 29 for determining what to do with the well. It was installed to determine whether it would be effective in reducing the underground water level.

State ready for Car Craft nationals

The Illinois Department of Transportation says high volumes of traffic are expected on I-64 and I-55-70 in this area on Saturday and Sunday, June 29 and 30.

In anticipation of a large attendance during the "Car Craft Machine Nationals" at the St. Louis International Raceway on Illinois Route 203 here, the following measures have been taken to minimize traffic congestion in this area, District Engineer Dale L. Klor of Highway District 8 said:

1. Temporary signing will be placed on Interstate and Interstate 55-70 to direct participants and spectators to the raceway.
2. Additional temporary signs will be placed to guide motorists to designated parking areas adjacent to Illinois Route 203.
3. A full increment of state emergency traffic patrol units will be on duty to assist with disabled vehicles.

"In addition to these measures, the Illinois State Police and raceway personnel will be directing motorists in order to facilitate a smooth flow of traffic," Klor said.

"These efforts should minimize congestion on the Interstate routes. Motorists from the northern areas are encouraged to utilize Illinois Route 203. Area motorists should seek alternate routes while this event is in progress."

Correction

The Granite City Council roll call vote stated in the Thursday Press-Record concerning the rescinding of the 5 percent utility tax was stated incorrectly.

Those aldermen voting to rescind the tax were Woody Moad, Pat Johnson, Casmer Skubish, Jake Jaradlan, Lloyd Bailey, Phillip Miller and Brett Hanke.

Those aldermen voting to keep the tax were Sam Whitmer, Everett Worlen, Paul Fla, Sharon Perjak, Michael Modrusic, Jody Whitaker and Jeff Worthen.

Commodities will be distributed

Officials in Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships and the Salvation Army have announced they will give out surplus government commodities this week.

Commodities will include processed cheese, rice, butter, dry milk, honey, cornmeal and flour. The items are in short supply and persons will be asked to take their choice of one.

All products will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis by ticket number received at the door.

To be eligible to receive commodities, persons must be residents of the township where they are getting the cheese. They must be the head of a household or the spouse, have their Social Security number, and sign an affidavit that their total household income is within the correct guidelines.

Recipients are to bring some proof of residency other than a driver's license. An unpaid utility bill or a voter's registration card is adequate, officials said.

Monthly income guidelines are as follows: one person, $519; two persons, $700; three persons, $881; four persons, $1,063; five persons, $1,244; six persons, $1,425; seven persons, $1,606; eight persons, $1,788; and $181 may be added for each additional member of the household.

Chouteau Township will begin distribution at 9 a.m. Tuesday, June 25, at the Chouteau Township Social Center, 697a N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell.

Venice Township will give out commodities at 9 a.m. Wednesday, June 26, at Engelbert Hall, 10th Street and Washington Avenue, Madison. Township officials advise that the honey should not be fed to children under 12 months of age. The officials also note there will be no discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

The Salvation Army, 3007 E. 23rd St., will begin distribution of commodities to Granite City Township residents at 9 a.m. Wednesday, June 26. A representative said commodities will be distributed even if there is inclement weather.

Nameoki Township will give away commodities starting at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 26. Commodities will be given out at the township hall, 4250 Highway 162.

GCCHS delegate attends Girl State

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

Living in a mythical state in the central part of Illinois, a group of real young women learned more about politics, civic responsibility and leadership last week than previously encountered in their entire lives.

Neda Sanders, a junior year student at Granite City High School, is among the 525 young women who are attending the 1985 Illinois Girl State program which concludes today.

Neda was selected to take part in the 45th annual Girl State as the representative of Tri-City American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113, Lumeta Durbin, Girl State chairman, announced.

The local delegate is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanders of Granite City. She is a member of the National Honor Society and Granite City High School Student Council and she is in the honors program.

Neda also is president of Students Against Drunk Driving and serves as secretary of the Future Secretaries Association.

Durbin said the purpose of Girl State is to provide citizenship and leadership training for the young women, all of whom are high school juniors.

In the self-governing community or "mythical state," patterned after the State of Illinois and following procedures of Illinois governmental bodies, the girls live together as "citizens," the local chairman explained.

The Girl Staters learn by accomplishing the tasks and duties of American citizenship as well as receiving its rights and privileges, through which they better understand and participate in the functioning of government, she said.

The girls form two political parties, live in different "cities" and then group into city and county organizations.

They elect city, county and state officials — from precinct committeemen to a state governor — and members of a state legislature.

Guided by the actual state constitutional process, the Girl Staters arrange caucuses, organize campaigns and hold conventions.

They also perform the duties pertaining to offices to which they are elected or appointed, thereby gaining further insight into the workings of the Illinois government, Durbin said.

Varied workshop and classes are convened and different speakers address the assembly, including the governor of Illinois, Gov. James R. Thompson was scheduled to visit prior to the program concluding today.

During the past week, the delegates also spent one day in Springfield, where they toured the State Capitol and House of Representatives and viewed state officials in the performance of their duties.

The 45th annual Girl State is being dissolved today and its youthful inhabitants will be returning to their home communities.

The experiences encountered, the memories gathered and the friendships formed this past week, more frequently than not, will project far into their future lives, the chairman said.

Barge firms, inland port system said to be jeopardized by tax plan

In testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee June 19, Joseph A. Farrell, president of American Waterways Operators (AWO), said Reagan administration and Congressional proposals for new and increased user taxes on the barge industry would "sabotage our port and waterway system" and send the already-depressed barge industry into "an even more catastrophic economic depression."

At issue are two proposals to increase the user tax on the barge industry, which says it is suffering in the fourth year of an acute depression.

A bill introduced by Sen. James Abdnor (R-SD), would increase the user tax to a minimum of 40 cents per gallon in five years, and administration proposals would multiply the current fuel tax by seven or eight times.

"It would be destructive to the economic interest of our nation to impose even greater financial burdens on an industry in such desperate condition," Farrell said.

He cited an Arthur Anderson & Co. survey of 15 of the nation's inland barge companies that showed the once-profitable companies lost $30 million in 1982 and over $40 million in 1983, while at the same time they paid $11 million per year in user taxes.

"During 1984, approximately 90 barges and towing companies went bankrupt, with a similar number expected to shut down this year. One in five waterway companies will have gone out of business in 1984-85."

"Let us assume the barge industry suddenly disappears. What would happen along our coastlines and river banks? What would happen to the marine insurance industry?

"What would it do to electric generating stations on the waterways? To refineries? How about the American farmer trying to export his crops, and needing fertilizer and insecticides to grow them in the first place?"

"What would be the trickle-down effect on our nation's river and port communities? What would happen to the cost to the American consumer of goods produced from bulk products which were hauled by barges? To the local tax bases? To school districts?" Farrell asked.

He concluded by saying the imposition of new and increased taxes on the barge and towing industry "places at great risk a stable future for this industry, which is an integral part of the nation's transportation network."

Two young men from Granite City sustained injuries June 18 when their pickup truck rolled down an embankment near Van Buren, Mo.

Charles Schwab, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schwab of Granite City, was expected to be released today from the Lucy Lee Hospital in Poplar Bluff, Mo., where he was admitted for treatment of a rib fracture and lacerations to the head.

Richard Boyett, 17, son of Mrs. Opal Boyett of Granite City, suffered cuts, to the head and right foot and was treated at the same hospital before being released.

Boyett, who was driving the 1984 pickup, and Schwab were on a camping trip near the Missouri community of Hunter.

They were traveling on Highway 103, a two-lane blacktop road, near Van Buren. According to a member of Boyett's family, the vehicle went out of control, made a complete turn and rolled down an embankment in a wooded area.

Its downward plunge was halted when the vehicle landed on its side against a tree. Initially, both young men were trapped inside the truck.

Boyett managed to climb out of a window and flagged down a passing motorist who obtained help for them from paramedics.

The medical team which took the injured to the hospital came from Poplar Bluff, about 45 miles from the crash scene, family members said.

More than 100 persons learn to swim at YMCA swim week

"My son is finally able and willing to swim."

"This is a very good program for water safety."

"A learning experience for my granddaughter, and very enjoyable for me."

"The price is right!"

These are just a few of the comments made by parents at the conclusions of the Tri-City Area YMCA's learn-to-swim week.

The week, which is designed to teach children who have never swum before, included five half-hour lessons at the price of $1 for the entire week.

The program was designed specifically to prevent the many drownings which inevitably occur each summer because a child did not know how to swim, a "Y" spokesman said.

More than 140 children participated in the program, and those 83 percent passed with learn-to-swim certificates. Furthermore, 41 percent passed YMCA poolwork requirements, 14 percent qualified as guppies and 1 percent passed to the level of minnow.

Those who passed basic swimming are Todd and Tony Anderson, Teresa Bloemer, Robert Boyd, Shane Buckingham, Amy and Daniel Cobb, Scott Ferris, Danielle and Rusty Ford, Wesley Garrett, Amy Gustafson, Latesha Haynes, Joanne Hedrick, Greg and Jeri Holder, Kenneth Hozian, Antonio Jacks, Jenny Joyce, Chris and Jason Lamb, Chuck Lamm, Trina Lohman, Gary Long, Mike and Patrick May, Anna Moslander, Laura Neptun, Marcie Noud, Courtney Prothro, Christina Ragan, Kevin Spence, LeAnna Strubberg and Misty Townsend.

Those who passed "learn-to-swim" and poolwork are Christie Atchely, Shea Bain, Mike Campbell, John and Kerri Catanzaro, Chris Charter, Sonya Danson, Mackenzie Ford, Michelle Fordyce, Eric Gray, Jimmie Green, Dawn and Sheila Heli, Kathy Heironimis, Diane and Fred Holt, Katrina Hozian, Aaron and Jason Holbrook, Crystal Lewis, Jason Lombardi, Christy and Terry Long, Sherry Marsala, Jennifer Miller, James Ogle, Crystal Petrillo, Bobby Joe and Jason Peiper, Jason Pilger, Shawn Schrock, Carla Soehring, Jessica Spence, Joey Spillers, Tommy Waller and Teresa Yurko.

Those who qualified for swimming, poolwork and guppy certification are Danette Blakeley, Shane Cavins, Tera Gustafson, Christa Holder, Douglas Johnson, Billy and Leslie Laycock, Eric Lohman, Shane Mc-Callister, Lisa McCoy, Brigitta and Starlene Modglin, Markelth Reynolds, Carrie Schaus, Ryan Shelton, Tammy Spillers and Jenny and Sarah Turck.

Julie Hargrove and Matt Heironimis qualified for learn-to-swim, poolwork, guppy and minnow. Those interested in further information about the YMCA Progressive Aquatics program, which has taught more youngsters to swim than any other program in the nation, may call the "Y" at 676-7200.

$25,000 pay for Schuler

Paul Schuler will be making $25,000 a year as a full-time employee of the Metro East Sanitary District.

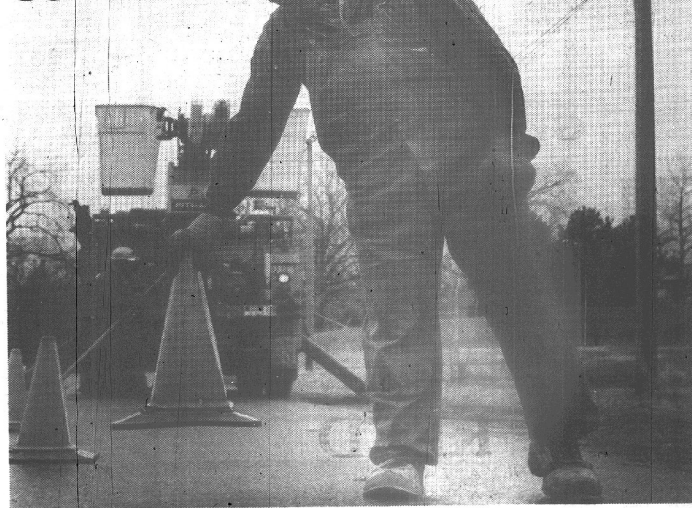

The three-term mayor of Granite City, defeated his quest for a fourth term in April by Von Dee Cruse, began work June 10 as the facility coordinator for regional sewage treatment in the district.

The regional program is schedued to go into operation sometime in 1986.

"I know some people will think there's something to this," said Shang Greathouse, executive director of MERSD. "But the fact is, Paul was the most qualified man for the job. He knows what's been going on with this project since it started and he knows the people involved. He's going to do a great job for us."

Court cases cleared

Despite the shortage of judges due to sickness and vacations, May was a productive month for the Circuit Court, Third Judicial Circuit (Madison and Bond counties), according to Court Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell.

During May, he noted in his report to the Supreme Court administrator's office, 5,411 cases were filed and 4,992 were terminated by the court.

"The most noticeable loss (in the number of cases cleared) was in traffic and ordinance violations, which are not time-consuming cases. All other categories remain stable during this month. There was a considerable gain in large law-jury cases and probate cases. The felony department remains stable for this month," Portell said.

Following are the numbers of each major type of case filed, terminated and pending at the end of May:

Cases	Filed	Terminated	Pending
Jury	41	83	1725
Non-jury	71	24	627
Jury	21	261
Non-jury	51	36	499
Other cases	28	25	390
Chancery	35	23	286
Miscellaneous Remedy	2	3	75
Eminent Domain	42	54	6
Mental Health	131	120	1141
Divorce	180	105	2204
Family	39	33	435
Juvenile	81	79	200
Felony	477	422	3766
Misdemeanor	519	603	2181
Small Claims	1,706	1,631	13,896

In the traffic division, 3,183 new cases were filed during May and 2,754 were terminated, the report shows.

Of the 88 felony cases heard during the month, 54 persons were convicted of felonies, four cases were dismissed or transferred, 19 were dismissed or consolidated, nine were reduced to a misdemeanor, and two were tried on a felony but convicted of a misdemeanor.

Guilt pleas during May included four for Class X felonies, 21 for Class 2 felonies, 17 for Class 3 felonies and 10 for Class 4 felonies. Two persons were convicted of murder by a jury.

Felony sentences during the month included 23 persons sent to prisons, 10 receiving probation or conditional discharge with periodic imprisonment, and 21 receiving probation or conditional discharge with other discretionary conditions.

Clearinghouse to aid victims of violent crimes in state

Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan announced June 18 the creation of the Illinois Violent Crime Victims Clearinghouse, another program in a continuing effort to assist victims of violent crimes.

A toll-free number has been installed in the attorney general's office to serve as a clearinghouse of information for social service agencies and law enforcement authorities who aid crime victims.

The clearinghouse is part of an attempt to "create a true victims' justice system in Illinois," Hartigan said.

He has testified before Congress, identifying such a need for crime victims, and pushed for state laws to help victims.

As a result, the attorney general's office has upgraded its financial assistance to individual victims and their families, and last week the office began distributing grants to agencies that provide assistance or services to victims of crime.

"The idea for the informational clearinghouse sprang from the Crime Victims Advisory Council after evaluating the grant applications," Hartigan said.

"Not only do crime victims reach out for assistance, but often, so do authorities trying to help the victims."

"Agencies share similar problems and concerns in administering crime victim programs. Creation of the clearinghouse enables my office to provide information and referral assistance, plus it serves as a communication link between agencies. Our goal is to provide the best possible service to Illinois violent crime victims."

The office awarded $600,000 to 75 public and not-for-profit agencies to provide services to victims of violent crime. By law, the attorney general serves as chairman of an 11-member commission which oversees the funds.

Funding is derived from fines imposed on convicted offenders. In turn, agencies use these funds to expand their crime victims services by hiring social workers, improving staff training or expanding existing programs. In addition, the attorney general's office provides financial assistance to individuals who are victims of violent crimes. Persons may be eligible if they incurred hospital costs, suffered loss of income, or had certain other expenses as the result of the crime. The office pays out $3.8 million annually, and provides financial assistance to 1,500 people a year.

Hartigan's staff is available to aid crime victim agencies from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays. The toll-free number is 1-800-228-3368.

DUI, TRAFFIC CHARGES FILED IN VENICE

While on patrol at 1:40 a.m. June 19, a Venice officer alleged seeing the driver of an older model brown auto, traveling south in the 1200 block of Klein Street at a slow speed, cross the center line into the northbound lanes, forcing another vehicle off the road.

The motorist, Roy L. Walters, 28, of 1117 Bissell St., Venice, was stopped in the 1000 block of South 4th Street, Venice, and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and improper lane usage.

He was further charged with failing to yield at an intersection and illegal transportation of alcohol; the latter after beer and a bottle of gin allegedly were found in the auto.

Walters agreed to a blood alcohol test and was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center prior to being released on notice to appear for a court hearing.

2 ARRESTED AFTER FIGHT
Two men were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct after a fight at 22nd Street and Madison Avenue June 19. Robert Brown, 27, of 2039 Cleveland Blvd. and James Porter, 18, of 2450 Benton St. were booked. Brown posted $52 bail and Porter was released on a notice to appear.

CHECK THEFT ALLEGED

Kathryn Baker, 22, of 2411 Grand Ave. was arrested June 18 on a charge of theft after a tax return check belonging to Jay Laird was found to be missing. Laird learned the check had been mailed May 31. Baker was booked and released on a notice to appear.

WOMAN'S PURSE GONE

The purse of Theresa Foutch, Bethalto, was stolen at Pete and Mary's Tavern June 18. She left the purse at her table when she went out on the dance floor. When she returned, the purse was gone.

1975 CAR STOLEN HERE

A 1975 Duster belonging to William Kuebel, 2666 Iowa St., was stolen June 18. He heard a smashing noise outside his window and saw two men, one in the car and another getting in the driver's side. They drove off in the auto, which has Illinois license YQ2574.

TIRES SLASHED ON LOT

Tires on two cars were slashed June 18 on the parking lot at National Food Store on Nameoki Road. Two right side tires on a van belonging to Alan Wurth, 3 Blue Haven, and two left tires on a car belonging to John Moore, Caseyville, were slashed. The two autos were parked next to each other.

GIRL, 16, IS BEATEN

Terri Armor, 22, of 1206 Kirkpatrick Homes was arrested June 18 for battery after a 16-year-old girl was beaten. Armor was later released after $52 bail was posted.

HOUSE VANDALIZED

Black spray paint was found all over a house at 2131 Grand Ave. June 18. The house is occupied by Manide Hawkins and is owned by her father, Curtis Walker, 2569 North St.

Alaskan lifestyle more varied

we have no pollution—just beach area, the ocean and the mountains," Mrs. Zabinko commented.
The island's population is approximately 10,000. Almost all food products, clothing and other necessary articles for living are shipped in by boat or by air freight.

The standard of living at Kodiak is believed to be higher than in many other parts of Alaska. Due to the frequent warm spells, milk is checked before use to assure that it has not spoiled.

IT IS EXPENSIVE to travel from the island to the mainland, since it must be done by boat or plane. "This is the first time in two years we have traveled," the former local resident said.

"Anchorage is the nearest town of any size and is very cold in the winter. But there are many activities that are interesting."

"They have a fur rendezvous and dog sled races that always attract many people, who make a sort of holiday festival of the events."

The average cost is about $600 to fly to Anchorage for a weekend.

REV. ZABINKO came to the island seven years ago as an instructor at St. Herman's Theological Seminary and to serve with other priests at Holy Resurrection Church there.

The seminary was established 10 years ago through the Alaskan diocese, which has 94 parishes and 26 members of the clergy. Rev. Zabinko also serves as registrar and financial aid officer for the seminary, and is in charge of the chapel for students.

Visitors and guests who visit the area are housed in the seminary whenever possible, Rev. Zabinko said.

He spoke of the high quality of education, noting that each village in Alaska must have its own school and in Kodiak there are public schools as well as several parochial schools.

THE TOWN HAS TWO newspapers, three radio stations and one television station.
While there are night cafeterias for the busy fishing industry, there also are stores, a supermarket and a hospital on the island.

Almost all the women make a Christmas shopping trip to Anchorage to visit the larger shopping malls, and also utilize catalog stores for items not directly available in Kodiak. For the most part, the merchandise comes from Los Angeles and from cities in the state of Washington, the family related.

AIRPORTS in Kodiak provide two or three flights a day. There is, however, much rain and this sometimes hampers small planes that travel from village to village.

Rev. Zabinko said he visits and conducts services in Old Harbor and the village of Alakalik, along with his other duties.

Although I do not really enjoy flying, I do like the people, who are very generous and good natured, and my visits are a joy to me," he added.

Rev. Zabinko has been assigned to Kodiak for seven years. Six years ago, Margaret decided she wanted to go to Alaska and work with church missions there.

THE REV. THOMAS Succarotte, pastor of the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Orthodox Church in Madison, a friend of Rev. Zabinko, when Margaret announced her plans to go to Alaska, he encouraged her to give his friend a message.

After the meeting, they became friends and subsequently decided to marry. They are the parents of a 2½-year-old son, Matthew.

A lively, energetic boy, he is the only member of the family who especially enjoys flying or traveling by boat, and he is excited each time he gets the opportunity, his mother said.

As a housewife and mother, Mrs. Zabinko has taken an interest in the native crafts and has learned to create intricate basket designs, one of the more artistic efforts of Alaskan residents.

SHE ALSO often attends when young people are being taught native dances, Alaskan history and traditional women's clothing designs.

There are still some people who pan for gold in the southeast and the Juneau area.
But that "industry" is not as important as the tourism business, which ranks second among all Alaskan businesses, Mrs. Zabinko said.

THE COUPLE AGREES that the people on the island of Kodiak are "beautiful in personality." The Zabinkos add that, although it is difficult for them to be away from their families, the church mission in Alaska constitutes a genuine need that must be met.

They summed up their life as fulfilling and meaningful, and they bring reality to their beliefs.

As they view it, "God's will will be done. At the end of each year, in a sense He makes the decision if we are to stay or be transferred."

of Granite City," he said. "I don't know if we'll use that much money ($5,000) — we may not need that much in the future, we may need more."

Both motions concerning the youth committee passed unanimously.

The Rev. Jerry Reed officiated at the 6 o'clock evening ceremony. Phyllis Talley presided at the organ and accompanied June Branding as she sang several nuptial selections.

Guests were received at a reception in the Knights of Columbus Hall immediately following the service.

Lezlie Voyles, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor with bridesmaids Christi Hansen, Kathy Galbreath and Lori Rowden.

Jennifer Stamer and Heather Ulmer, cousins of the bride, were flower girls and Scotty Ulmer, another cousin, was the ring bearer.

The groom chose Mike Bennett as best man. Sean Jenkins, the groom's brother, and Geoff Wofford and Paul Willis were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Tim Voyles, a brother of the bride, and Lloyd Sharp. Candlelighters were Mark Brokaw and Guy Jenkins, brothers of the bride.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School South. They are residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to Tan-Tan-A Resort in Missouri.

Mrs. Michael McClanahan

McClanahan-Ball

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Brenda Kathleen Ball of Broken Arrow, Okla., and Michael Patrick McClanahan, also of Broken Arrow, formerly of Madison, on June 8.

The Rev. Paul E. Elchoff officiated at the 7:30 p.m. ceremony at St. Benedict's Catholic Church in Broken Arrow. Wedding music was provided by Libby Brown and David Elliott, soloists, accompanied by Beryl Nash at the organ.

A reception was held at the Embassy Suites Grand Ballroom in Tulsa, Okla.

The newlywed couple is residing at 1305 S. Gum Ave., Broken Arrow, following a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico.

Matron of honor was Linda Butler and bridesmaids included Earline Hargis, Jeannie Holt, Barbara Wynkoop, Lisa Wade and Linda McClanahan, a sister of the groom.

Megan and Neil Johnson, a niece and nephew of the groom, were the flower girl and ring bearer.

Entertainment

Anheuser-Busch to sponsor main stage acts at VP Fair

Anheuser-Busch Inc. will take center stage at the fifth annual Fourth of July Valedictorian Fair as sponsor of the stage compound under the Arch—the traditional setting for the top entertainment at the fair.

Acts appearing on the main stage include Ray Charles and the U.S. Army Band on Thursday, July 4; Doc Severerson and the St. Louis Symphony on Friday, July 5; Liza Minelli on Saturday, July 6; and the Up With People singers on Sunday, July 7.

"By supporting the main stage, we believe this will give Anheuser-Busch significant day-long recognition during the run of the fair," said John C. Lodge, of the Anheuser-

Busch sales promotion department. "And, it is also important that we help sponsor the highest quality entertainment."

Anheuser-Busch has sponsored major shows under the Arch since the fair's inception five years ago.

The brewery also will be involved in other facets of the VP Fair. The world-famous Budweiser Clydesdale hitch will participate in the annual VP Parade on Wednesday, July 3, through the downtown streets. Anheuser-Busch will also sponsor a Circus Wagon in the parade. Leo Loudenslager, the seven-time world champion aerobatic pilot, will perform in his Bud Light 290 as part of the air shows scheduled throughout the weekend.

Quilt show, auction slated

Rockome Gardens will be "bursting at the seams" with color June 29 and 30 during the tenth annual Quilt Show and Auction. The quilts, in all shades of a rainbow, seek to accent the beauty of the surrounding rock and floral gardens.

The show and auction annually provide an opportunity to see and buy some of the most unusual quilts in Illinois. The event will be held at Rockome Gardens, five miles west of Arcoia, Ill., just off Interstate 57. The show tent will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. Categories for the 1985 show are patchwork, embroidery, applique, antique (over 40 years old), baby, wallhangings and miscellaneous.

The show this year will be judged by members of the National Quilters Association. Prizes will be awarded to the top three in each category.

Sixty new, hand-made quilts will be sold at auction each day of the event. The auction tent is open to the public at 10 a.m. each day. Bidding will begin at 2 p.m.

While visiting the show, guests can enjoy an "Dutch style" meal at the Rockome Family Style Restaurant.

The quilt event is just one of many programs held at the scenic park. For information about other events, interested persons may write Rockome Gardens, Attn: Barbara, RR.2, Box 87, Arcoia, Ill. 61810.

Botanical Garden to sponsor Colorado trip

The education department of the Missouri Botanical Garden is sponsoring a seven-day trip to The Nature Place in Colorado July 7-13. The Nature Place is a National Environmental Study Area situated on the west side of Pike's Peak.

Participants will explore the mountains, rivers and desert of Colorado with David Wilson, environmental education manager for the garden. In addition, there will be programs by professional botanists, geologists, ornithologists and guest speakers. Course credit is available through several participating universities. The program is ideal for families and includes activities for every age group.

For a detailed description of the programs, facilities and costs, interested persons may call 1-314-577-5147.

Doll and toy fair in Belleville July 6

Youth of all ages will find toys of their dreams at the third annual Southern Illinois Doll and Toy Fair. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, July 6, at the Fairgrounds in Belleville.

A hundred doll and toy dealers from 12 states are featured in the show. Items for sale include a computer program for collectors, educational toys for children, and miniature houses, dolls and furnishings. Wicker and wooden doll furniture and hand-crafted reproduction trunks for storing dolls and toys are some of the accessories that will be displayed.

Patricia R. Smith, well-known author of numerous doll books, will be autographing her books. She will appraise dolls from 1 to 4 p.m. for a charge of 50 cents per doll.

Marty Westfall, author of "The Handbook of Doll Repair and Restoration," will be available to discuss doll making and restoration, and to autograph her book.

Teddy bears of all sizes, from new to antique, will provide a special treat for collectors. Bear artists from many states are bringing their unique creations, including real fur teddies.

Antique toys for collectors, farm toys, and antique and collectible trains make up part of the toy selection available July 6. Antique and collectible dolls from miniature to child-size, as well as original designs and doll kits will be for sale.

Fairgoers may want to see "Cuddie Bug Ponchos," "Peggy Marlene," and German Cabbage Patch dolls. Supplies for doll repair, antique doll patterns, doll shoes and clothes, and leather and cloth doll bodies will be for sale. Doll restringing will be an added feature of this year's show and will be available for a reasonable charge.

Another new feature of the third annual show will be hourly attendance prizes. The final drawing will be at 4:30 p.m. for a Cabbage Patch doll. Winners must be present at the time of the drawing.

Parking is free, and the snack bar at the fairgrounds will be open all day for the convenience of the shoppers. The admission charge is $2.

Artists, craftsmen sought for festival

The St. Louis Strassenfest is seeking artists and craftsmen who wish to have a booth in the arts and crafts division of its annual festival to be held in downtown St. Louis July 26 through 28. The Strassenfest was founded in 1959 to celebrate the German-American heritage of the St. Louis region.

"We will accept a few applications from artists and craftsmen for the July 26 to 28 Strassenfest. We are proud of our tradition of featuring the finest craftsmen of the St. Louis region," said Barbara Sullivan, who serves as co-chairman of the Strassenfest arts and crafts division with Lee Toberman. "Our goal is to culturally enrich the St. Louis Strassenfest and to make people more aware of the growing importance of American crafts. We want to promote appreciation for well-made, hand-produced products."

Applications should include pictures or slides of merchandise to be sold. A panel of judges will select the finalists to participate in the Strassenfest. For further information, interested persons may write Arts and Crafts Division, St. Louis Strassenfest, 26 Aberdeen Place, St. Louis, Mo. 63105.

Doc Severinsen to appear at VP Fair

Doc Severinsen, the trumpet-playing musical director of "The Tonight Show," will join the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra for a special V.P. Fair concert at 8:30 p.m. Friday, July 5, on the mainstage under the Arch. Richard Hayman, the Symphony's McDonnell Douglas principal conductor, will conduct.

Though most closely identified with "The Tonight Show," Severinsen also is a Las Vegas and Atlantic City nightclub star and has been voted top brass performer 10 times in Playboy's annual music poll.

The finale of the concert is a rendition of the 1812 Overture, complete with choreographed fireworks. Other program highlights include "Memory" from the Broadway musical "Cats" and "MacArthur Park."

Tickets for reserved seats located in front of the stage are $20 each. Proceeds benefit the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra. Tickets may be purchased at the symphony box office, 718 N. Grand, or by calling 1-314-534-1700 to charge on MasterCard or Visa. For long distance calls, the toll-free number is 1-800-232-1880.

Bi-State to provide VP Fair shuttle

To help ease traffic congestion during this year's VP Fair, Bi-State Transit once again will operate a free downtown shuttle bus service on July 4, 6 and 7.

Visitors to the VP Fair will be able to catch a shuttle bus every five minutes from noon until after the fireworks each night. There will be no charge for riding the shuttle, which is being sponsored by the St. Louis Center retail complex, scheduled to open Aug. 8 in downtown St. Louis between Famous-Barr and Dillard's.

Shuttle buses will travel in a loop along 18th, Clark, 14th, Convention Plaza, 3rd and Washington back to 18th. Passengers will be picked up and discharged in the parking lot under 1-70, Third and Washington.

VP Fair officials are encouraging use of both the shuttle and regular bus service to alleviate traffic congestion caused by the expected four to five million visitors attending the fair. Bi-State is offering a $5 Weekly

Pass on regular bus service during the week of the VP Fair, at $5 saving from the regularly priced pass. It will be valid from July 1 through 7.

Bi-State's Transit Information, normally closed on weekends and holidays, will be open from noon to 6 p.m. on July 4, 6 and 7 to provide information on bus routes and schedules. Transit information will operate as usual from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. July 5. The phone number is 875-4144.

Puppets to be featured at VP Fair

St. Louis' family entertainment producers Bill and Doug Kincaid have announced their participation in the 1985 V.P. Fair.

On the "Children's Hometown U.S.A." stage, Bill and Doug Kincaid will present their "Farmyard Follies" puppet production, featuring a furry and feathered cast of barnyard puppets in a half-hour music and comedy revue.

Strolling the fairgrounds will be the "Kincaid Characters," larger-than-life, fuzzy costumed characters representing some of St. Louis' best known organizations.

Bill and Doug Kincaid will also appear with the "Kincaid Characters" in this year's V.P. Parade, which begins Wednesday, July 3, at 6 p.m. in downtown St. Louis.

Both the "Farmyard Follies" show and the "Kincaid Characters" will be featured on the V.P. Fairgrounds July 4, 5, 6 and 7 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. There is no admission to either attraction.

Around the Kitchen Jammin'

Granite City Press-Record/Journal Sunday

No-cook freezer jam berry good

There's nothing more refreshing than the sweet, light taste of fresh strawberries in the summer. They are great by themselves or with other foods. They are sensational when transformed into a Strawberry Jam that can be enjoyed for months on a variety of breads at any meal.

This recipe for Strawberry Jam is a breeze to make because it is not cooked. It is one of the easy no-cook freezer jams that can be stored up to 6 months in reusable plastic containers. This jam is made with the added help of liquid fruit pectin. Do not substitute other types of pectin.

Pectin is a natural ingredient in fruit that helps assure jam will set and also helps capture fruit flavor and color. Natural fruit pectin decreases as fruit ripens, so the packaged variety gives nature a helping hand to create a full-flavored jam. Use the ripest, tastiest strawberries for best results.

Take advantage of abundant seasonal fruits by combining two of them in a delicious recipe — no-cook Strawberry-Peach Jam. These two fruit flavors will be a hit at breakfast, with snacks or as a dessert topping over ice cream or cake.

Strawberry Jam
1 1/2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 qt. fully ripe strawberries)
4 cups (1 3/4 lb.) sugar
2 tbsp. lemon juice
1 (6 oz.) pouch liquid fruit pectin

Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 quart strawberries. Measure 1 1/2 cups into large bowl or pan.

Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes.

Add lemon juice to fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.)

Ladle quickly into sealed containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids.

Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks.

Makes about 4 1/2 cups or about 5 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Strawberry-Peach Jam
1 1/2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 pt. fully ripe strawberries and 3/4 lb. fully ripe peaches)
1 tsp. ascorbic acid crystals, if desired

4 cups (1 3/4 lb.) sugar
2 tbsp. lemon juice
1 (6 oz.) pouch liquid fruit pectin

Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 pint strawberries. Measure 1 cup into large bowl or pan.

Peel, pit and finely chop or grind about 3/4 pound peaches. Measure 3/4 cup and add to strawberries; add ascorbic acid.

Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes.

Add lemon juice to fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.)

Ladle quickly into sealed containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids.

Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks.

Makes about 4 1/2 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Note: Addition of ascorbic acid helps maintain color and flavor of fruit; purchase at local drugstore or in home-canning section of supermarket.

Short, easy recipes from the kitchen

Chef's salad crisp

Crisp and crunchy salads are synonymous with light summer eating. Chef's Salad Patricia is a California classic: Combine 1 quart torn romaine lettuce and 2 medium heads of butter lettuce with cucumber slices, julienne strips of chicken or turkey, ham and Swiss cheese. Add frozen artichoke halves, cooked and cooled, sliced fresh mushrooms, and asparagus tips, cooked and cooled, plus chopped hard-cooked eggs.

Sprinkle with seasoned salt and seasoned pepper. Toss with a favorite dressing.

Makes 8 servings.

Italian frittata

5 eggs
1 can (1 lb.) pork and beans
1 cup provolone cheese, cubed
2 oz. pepperoni, thinly sliced
1 to 2 cloves garlic, minced
1/4 cup parsley, chopped
1 tsp. basil
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
Salt
Pepper

In large bowl, beat eggs thoroughly.

Drain beans. Add beans, provolone, pepperoni, garlic, parsley and basil to beaten eggs. Mix well. Salt and pepper to taste.

Melt butter in large frypan on medium-high heat. Pour in egg mixture; cover.

During cooking, occasionally remove cover and slip spatula under cooked portion to allow uncooked egg mixture to flow to the bottom.

Cook until eggs are set and puffy around edges, about 10 minutes.

Cut in pie-shaped wedges.

Makes 6 servings.

Strawberry lore

Children in merrie olde England skipped through spring meadows in search of wild berries. When they happened upon red-ripened fruits, they stopped to pick and thread them on grass straws. They filled their baskets and returned to their village to sell the "straws of berries." This is one popular story that explains the fruit's name.

Angel food cake

An angel food cake pan is easy to prepare because it needs none. Whatever type of pan used — cupcake, tube, loaf or jelly roll, it must remain ungreased so the delicate batter can cling to the sides for support as it bakes and cools.

Store grains cool

Grain products such as oats, cornmeal and barley have a shelf life of 12 months. To maximize the quality of these and other canned foods, store in a cool, dry pantry or cupboard. Arrange so the oldest package or can will be used first. Never store food, even sealed cans, under the sink. Pipes can leak, and food can attract insects and rodents.

Fruits tarty

To make Apple Valley Salad, toss 4 cups shredded cabbage with 2 cored and diced medium apples, 1/4 cup chopped green onion and 1/2 green bell pepper, cut into thin slices.

Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon seasoned pepper and 1/4 cup white wine vinaigrette dressing.

Makes 6 servings.

Cowboy beans

1 lb. dry pinto beans
1 (12-oz.) can beer
1 lb. smoked ham hocks
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 (16-oz.) can tomatoes, cut up
3 tbsp. molasses
1 tsp. dry mustard
1/4 tsp. pepper

Rinse beans. Combine beans and 7 cups water. Bring to boil. Simmer 2 minutes; remove from heat. Cover; let stand 1 hour. Drain.

Combine beans, beer and 2 cups water. Add ham hocks and onion. Cover and simmer 1 hour, stirring occasionally.

Remove ham hocks. Remove meat from bones; chop. Discard bones.

Return meat to beans along with tomatoes, molasses, dry mustard and pepper. Cover and simmer 1 hour more or until beans are tender, stirring occasionally. Add additional water or beer, if necessary.

Makes 8 servings.

Cream puff ring

1 cup water
1/4 cup margarine
1 cup flour
1/4 tsp. salt
4 eggs
2 (8-oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened
1 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup whipping cream, whipped
2 bananas, sliced
1 (1-oz.) square unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 tsp. milk

Bring water and margarine to boil. Add flour and salt; stir vigorously over low heat until mixture forms ball. Remove from heat.

Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition.

Shape dough into 9-inch ring on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 400° for 30 to 35 minutes or until golden brown.

Remove from cookie sheet immediately; cool.

Combine cream cheese, 1 cup sugar and vanilla, mixing until well blended. Reserve 1/4 cup cream cheese mixture; fold whipped cream and bananas into remaining mixture. Chill.

Cut top from ring; fill with whipped cream mixture. Replace top.

Add remaining sugar, chocolate and milk to reserved cream cheese mixture; mix well. Spread over ring.

Makes 10 servings.

Chicken salad

1 envelope bleu cheese and herbs salad dressing mix
Vinegar, water and oil
1 tbsp. mayonnaise
1/2 lb. cooked chicken, cubed
1/2 cup diced, cored red-skinned apple
1/4 cup diced celery
2 tsp. capers
4 leaves Boston lettuce

1 medium tomato, cut into 6 wedges
1/2 cup cooked green beans, cut into 2-inch lengths
1 hard-cooked egg, cut into 6 wedges

Crisp bacon, crumbled to 1 tbsp.

1 tsp. chopped parsley

Prepare salad dressing mix with vinegar, water and oil as directed on envelope. Combine 1/4 cup of the dressing with mayonnaise; blend well.

Spoon over chicken, apple, celery and capers; toss gently. Chill.

Spoon mixture evenly onto lettuce-lined plates. Arrange salad with tomato wedges, green beans and egg wedges. Sprinkle with bacon and parsley.

Makes about 2 cups or 2 servings.

Shrimp supreme

1 cup (8 oz.) Italian salad dressing
1 cup chili sauce

2 tbsp. corn syrup
2 lb. large shrimp, cleaned
4 lemons, cut into wedges

In large bowl, blend dressing, chili sauce and corn syrup; add shrimp. Cover and marinate in refrigerator, turning occasionally, at least 2 hours.

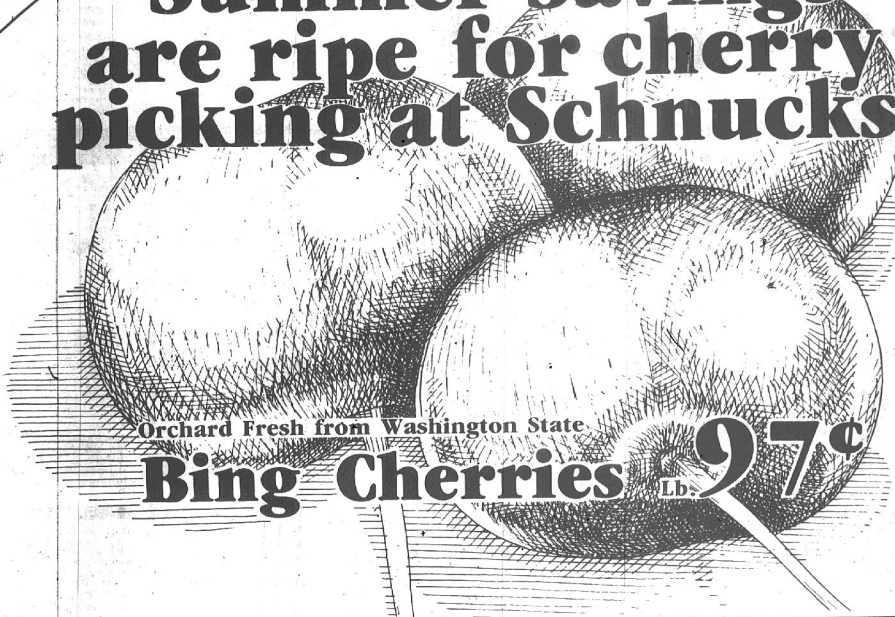

On skewers, alternately thread shrimp and lemons. Grill or broil, basting frequently with marinade, until shrimp are done.

Makes about 6 servings.

Short-handed Triplets edge East Side, 2-1

By GREGG OCHOA

Staff writer

Pitcher Sam Tate breezed past East St. Louis Friday night in a game which saved its most exciting moments for the last 15 minutes.

In that time span, third baseman Steve Davis atoned for his error and first baseman Mark Bowen yielded a Gold Glove at first.

"The biggest play, however, was a sweeping tag by catcher Derek Merz on Mark Adams which prevented East Side from tying the game and preserved a 2-1 win for Tri-City Post 113 in an American Legion baseball game at Varsity Field.

With the victory, the Triplets upped their record to 4-3. It was Tri-City's second consecutive win at home.

"These one run games are tough," said Tri-City Manager Dave Coakley. Three of the Triplets seven games this season have been decided by a single tally.

In all, the victory wasn't bad considering that one-third of Tri-City's line-up were pitchers.

"We only had eight guys 'til about quarter to six (15 minutes before gametime) when Bowen showed up," Coakley said. "It's hard to have the worry if the kids will show up, then worry about the game."

Summer vacations and work schedules left the Triplets reeling. They dressed only nine players for the game.

To complicate matters several players were forced to play out of position. Some examples: Pat Cathey, normally a first baseman manned shortstop; Allen Zentgraf, normally a pitcher played on right field.

"I was really concerned," Coakley said. "Then we started leaving runners on base again."

But Tri-City got the maximum effort from Tate. The right-hander tossed a six-hitter for his second complete game. He has now allowed just three runs — two of them earned — in 30 innings of work. Tate improved his record to 2-0.

In his only other start, he limited O'Fallon to just two hits in six scoreless innings before the game was called because of rain. Tate later came back to post a 6-2 win over O'Fallon.

"I must have thrown 85 curve balls tonight," Tate said. "That's really all I threw. I wasted my fastball inside. The only time I really got hurt was when I hung a curve ball."

Tate, who attended Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey last fall, also benefitted from some good defense in the seventh inning.

Behind 2-1, Post 378 made its last bid to draw even.

East Side's Rodney Lofton took Gerald Booker deep in center field before flying out to lead-off the seventh.

Natkie Malone then coaxed a walk off Tate. The next batter, Jim Collins, then hit a rocket down the first base line. Bowen dove to tag and was able to field the ball.

"Bowen looked like Hernandez out there," Tate quipped.

Bowen, who played some first base in Junior Legion, tagged the base, retiring Collins, and threw to second in an attempt to force Mark Adams, pinch-running for Malone, at second.

"The ball bounced in fair territory, then in foul and must have hit something and came back (in fair ground)," Bowen said.

Adams was safe at second after Cathey failed to make the tag. Cathey left after the game, but Bowen said: "Pat said the umpire called (Adams) out as soon as he caught the ball. That's why he didn't tag him."

With two outs, Ramone Hughes hit a hard bouncer to Davis at third. As Adams raced to third, the ball hit the dirt and then Davis in the chest.

Davis struggled to keep the ball in front of him as Adams kept running. The East Side runner hesitated for an instant as he rounded third and Davis fired to Merz who put the tag on Adams to ending the game.

The play set off a mild celebration as Tate bounced off the mound to congratulate both Davis and Merz.

"After Steve booted that ball I didn't know if he was going to get the guy at home or not," Coakley said.

Davis had a rough evening a third base. In the third inning he kicked a grounder by Malone and minutes before Lofton had fled center, the batter scorched one right at Davis that was inches from being fair.

NO CONTEST. Tri-City first baseman Mark Bowen awaits a late pick-off throw by pitcher Sam Tate as East St. Louis' Melvin Riddle dives back safely. The Triplets won their second consecutive American Legion baseball game Friday night with a 2-1 decision over East Side.

"I thought to myself here we go again," Davis said of the play in the seventh. "I finally got the ball and heard them yelling 'Home.'"

Tate perhaps had the best view of the action. He knew the play was going to be close.

"The guy made an excellent head-first slide," Tate said. "But Dog (Merz) just jumped out there and nailed him in the shoulder."

Tri-City almost let the game slip away, but scored the winning run in the sixth. With one out Booker doubled to left center. Merz was caught looking at a third strike, but Cathey executed a perfect hit-and-run scoring Booker.

Booker kept the East St. Louis defense off-balance dancing around by the base. In fact, right before the pitch Cathey hit, Booker faked like he was going to steal and headed back to second. East St. Louis shortstop Kennard Wilson moved to the base and Cathey hit the ball exactly to the vacated spot in the infield. "We planned on him (Booker) to steal," Coakley said. "By having that hit-and-run on it just opened up the hole enough."

The Triplets jumped on starter Cedrick Baker for a run in the first. Tate singled, Davis reached on an error, moving Tate to second. Booker, who reached base three times and hid two hits, got an RBI base hit, giving Tri-City a 1-0 advantage.

Tate limited East Side to four hits through the first five innings. DeWayne Hawthorn doubled to open the sixth and scored on an RBI single by Baker tying the score at 1-1.

The game, which lasted just one hour and 37 minutes, was dominated by the pitchers. Tate fanned seven and walked just three. Baker struck out five and didn't walk a batter.

Tri-City was to play Marissa today (Sunday) at Varsity Field at 2 p.m. East St. Louis falls to 4-6 on the season.

Game Winner

TICKET WINNER. Christina Mouser, 11, of rural Granite City is the Press-Record/Journal's most recent Game of the Week ticket winner. Christina, who will be a sixth grader at Mitchell School this fall, correctly guessed that the Phillies would beat the Cardinals on Wednesday, June 19. She has never been to a Cardinal baseball game. In that game the Phillies upset the Cards 1-0. For correctly guessing the score, Christina received two tickets to the July 5 Cardinal game against Los Angeles.

Junior Legion Baseball

Hogan Junior Legion Baseball bows to Alton

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Baseball's a funny game. It's a game of pitching and hitting, but not only pitching and hitting. And, many times the outcome of a game is not determined by pitching and hitting, but by one or two lucky or unlucky plays.

No one knows that better than Paul Kacera, coach of the Hogan Junior American Legion team. Thursday night at Varsity Field, Kacera saw his squad outpitch, outfield and nearly outeverything their Alton counterparts. But still, when it was over, the local boys came up short, losing their third in five games, 5-3.

The following night, however, at Dal Maxwell Field, the Juniors defeated Hogan 7-2. The victory evened their record to 3-3 on this rain-afflicted season.

On Thursday, behind the pitching of Scott LeVault, the local squad allowed just two hits, but gave Alton five unearned runs. The right-handed LeVault, who went the distance for Hogan, struck out seven and walked five and hit two batters with pitches. Three of those walked circled the bases to score, another, one of the two who was hit by a pitch, scored and a fifth, who reached on an error, also tallied.

Despite Hogan's misfortune, the deciding factor in the game can be traced to two successful, perfectly executed double steals by Coach Joe Morales' Post 126 Juniors.

In each instance, once in the first inning and again in the second, Alton coaxed Granite City's catcher Dave Bamber to throw to second for the attempted put out. But in each instance, the attempt was unsuccessful and the player on third base successfully stole home.

The two runs turned out to be the difference in the ballgame.

"The decision to throw the ball down there (to second base) is ours, the coaches," Kacera said. "We let them know whether or not to go for (the put out). Without a doubt, if the throw is there (back to the plate) we would have had them both out by 20 feet. But the throws weren't. It was just a bad night all around," Kacera said.

"Tonight we didn't make the good throws back to the plate and then we ended up, giving them all unearned runs. That was it."

The loss came just two days after the local squad humiliated Belleville's Juniors.

"No, I don't think we had a let down after beating Belleville," Kacera said. "Sometimes you win, sometimes you don't. Tonight we didn't."

Assessing the team's last two opponents, Kacera said Alton is a better team than Belleville. The win improved Alton's record to 6-2.

Against Belleville, the local Juniors scattered 18 hits enroute to their 20-1 romp. Against Alton, Hogan mustered six hits, but scored just three times.

Despite the final outcome, Thursday's game, at least in the early going, seemed as though it was going to be another high-scoring contest.

Alton scored in its first inning when lead-off batter Steve Baze reached on a walk, advanced to second on a sacrifice bunt, reached third on an error and then scored when he and Rob Hasse executed the first of the two double steals.

LeVault, however, put an end to Alton's first-inning scoring as he struck out Brian Brakeville and forced Tim Gleason to ground out.

In Hogan's half of the first inning, the local boys battled back to score one and tie the game. Tim Hogan reached on an error by Hasse, and then Jamie Hogan swatted a double to the left center field gap which Tim legged out to score.

Jamie, trying to stretch the double into a triple was thrown out at third by a perfect throw from center fielder Baze.

The Hogan first inning ended when Alton turned a twin killing to get both Todd Hinterser and Todd Adamitis at first and second.

Alton bounced back in its second inning to retake the lead when Todd Taul and Scott Allsman both crossed the plate to re-establish a lead Alton would never relinquish.

LeVault loaded the bases by walking Taul and hitting both Allsman and Joe Twitchell with pitches.

Mark Elliot, Alton's hurler, sacrificed to deep right field to bring in Taul to take a 2-1 lead. Then came the second double steal.

With Twitchell on first and Allsman on third, Twitchell headed for second. Bamber's throw was a little high and as soon as Twitchell committed to second base Allsman headed for the plate.

Hogan's Charlie Collins fired the ball back at home toward Bamber, but the toss was a little high, just high enough to allow Allsman to cross the plate unmolested. The effort further padded Alton's lead, 3-1.

Hogans picked up another run in the fourth to close the point spread to 3-2. Todd Adamitis reached on a walk and advanced to second when Alton hurler Mark Elliot also passed LeVault.

Adamitis stole third and then scored on a wild pitch. LeVault was left stranded.

Alton re-established its two-run lead in the fifth when Baze scored for the second time. Reaching on a walk, Baze advanced to second on a long fly ball to right field and then scored when Hasse swatted double to the left center field gap.

Then Post 126 made it a 5-2 ballgame in the sixth when Tim Gleason reached on an error and advanced to second on Taul's single to center field.

Allsman sacrificed to advance both runners and then Twitchell laid down a perfect squeeze play bunt to score Gleason to give Alton a three-run lead.

In the Hogan half of the sixth Todd Hinterser slapped a shot down the first-base line. Initially, the field umpire called the ball foul but after an impromptu conference with both Hinterser and the plate umpire, the ball was ruled fair.

After Adamitis struck out, LeVault singled to left to advance Hinterser to third. Collins walked to load the bases for Tim Patterson, who battled off two foul balls before walking to force in Hinterser.

Hogan had a chance to score again — on a bouncing grounder — but Allsman alertly checked the runner at third before throwing to first for the put out.

Then came the play of the game. Just when it seemed that Hogan was on the verge of mounting a comeback, Darin Hendrickson, pinch batting for Mike Geisgolf, slapped a MITCHELL. Tony Zolmer doesn't want to see fast-pitch softball become a relic, so he has taken matters into his own hands.

Zolmer has organized a new fast-pitch softball league which is designed to develop skills of high school age players.

"We are trying to make this an instructional league," said Zolmer, who lives in Mitchell. With the assistance of the Mitchell Athletic Club, the league has gotten off the ground. Four teams, including one from Granite City, are participating. The three other teams are made up of players who attended East St. Louis, Lincoln and Wood River High Schools.

The league, called the MAC Invitational Fast-Pitch High School League, officially began June 16 and has two contests scheduled for this Sunday at the Mitchell Athletic Complex.

Zolmer, the general manager of the Wood River Royals softball team for the past 20 years, said he got the idea of forming the league to an effort to rekindle interest in fast-pitch softball.

"A lot of people kept saying somebody ought to do something," Zolmer said. "I just look at it upon myself. I guess I'm that somebody." While the invitational league has just four squads and each team will play just six games, Zolmer hopes more teams will want to participate next summer.

"We would like to expand it and in the future hold clinics for the players," Zolmer said. "Eventually the Mitchell Athletic Club would like to install lights. If they do that, maybe we could play night games." Zolmer said plans for the league mushroomed after he attended the Cahokia High School Invitational Softball tournament this spring.

"I asked some coaches (including the Warriors' Jim Davis) if there would be any interest in such a league and I got good responses." Zolmer realized it will take time to parallel the interest of slow-pitch softball.

"It's going to be hard because slow-pitch has been so dominant in the Tri-City area." Zolmer, who in 1982 was inducted into the Illinois Amateur Softball Association's Hall of Fame, hopes the new league will grow. "There is a lot of talent on this side of the river that's going to waste," he said.

"It's going to be a big help to our team," Davis said. "It's something we wanted to get started for a long time."

When Davis first took over the Granite City High School softball team he has urged a summer program be instituted.

"Most of the teams that have been real good in our area have this type of program," Davis said.

Davis feels the league also benefits younger players by allowing them more time to sharpen their skills. Zolmer said another benefit of league is as its reputation grows players may stay closer to home. Currently, good prep players must go to St. Louis if they wish to play softball after high school.

"I went to a tournament in Affton (Mo.) and was surprised to see all of the Illinois kids playing for teams over there."

The Granite City team entered in the league is sponsored by Mitchell Athletic Club and coached by John Hutchings, the assistant GCHS varsity softball manager.

"It's a good opportunity to get some of the girls six more games of experience," Hutchings said.

The league is open to all players still in high school. Graduated seniors, however, are not allowed to play.

"It may be a little restrictive, but we wanted to make (play) competitive."

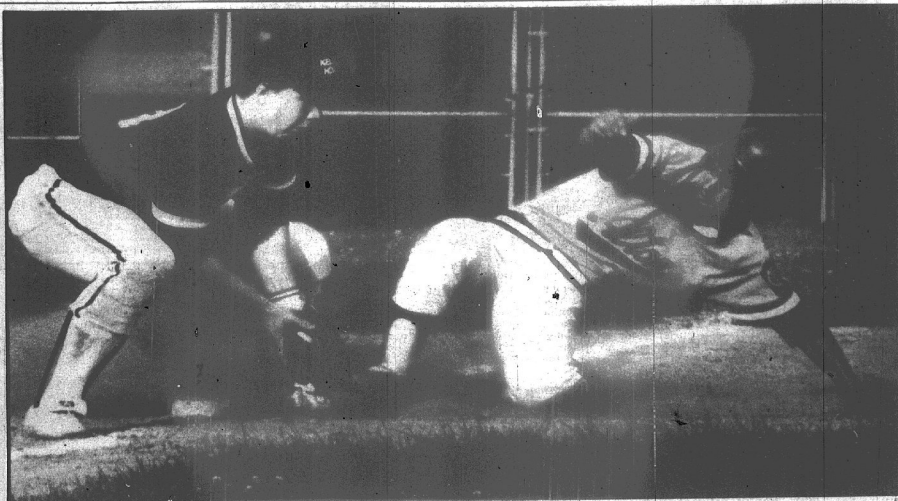

Members of the 1984 Warrior softball team, which advanced to the regional championship game now playing for Hutchings are Amy Moss, Karen Sykes, Kerl Holtcamp and Kim Armour.

"There was a lot of interest (toward the new league) among the girls that I talked to," Hutchings explained.

The Granite City team, however, lost its opener 8-2 to Lincoln.

"Despite the score it was a close game," Hutchings said. "It was 3-2 for the longest time."

The Granite City team will play again this Sunday against East St. Louis at the Mitchell Athletic Club complex.

Cole Selected To First Team

GCHS fare well in SWC standings

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER Executive Sports Editor

Belleville West may have re-established itself as the best sports school among those schools in the Southwestern Conference by claiming "another All-Sports Trophy," but the Warriors this spring have made a mark of their own.

Granite City High School's baseball team, which until the last two conference games was vying for the league championship with East St. Louis, has landed two on the SWC First Team — Shane Cole and Pat Cathey. Cole, along with East St. Louis' Bobby DeLoach and Belleville West's Mark Lanson, was a unanimous choice. Both Cole and Cathey were seniors.

Warrior pitcher Eric Gray, who threw perhaps his best game of the season in a losing effort to East St. Louis in the Collinsville Regionals, was named to the second team while Jim Chomko and Kurt Hylla were GCHS honorable mentions. Gray and Chomko were juniors. Hylla was a senior.

The Warriors finished the season third in the league with a 5-5 conference record. In softball, the Warriors made good late in the season and finished with a 4-4 league record, good enough for third place. Belleville West, which won the league, garnered most of the honors.

Junior Karen Sykes, who was also the Warriors' MVP, was the only local girl named to the First Team. Sykes, who caught most of the season, was selected to the first team as an outfielder.

Honorable mentions include Keri

Holtkamp, Anne Fubse, Kathy Hutchings and Michelle Morgan.

In tennis, league officials selected 10 singles all conference players and seven all conference doubles teams.

Local honorees include Rob Lombardi in singles and Lombardi and Jerry Lakin in doubles. The Southwestern Conference All Tournament Team, however, did not include a GCHS athlete. Belleville East and West dominated the list with Joe Marinella of East getting the top nod and Belleville West's Bill Avey and Mark Hoppenjans getting the top doubles spot in the conference.

In track, the final spring sport not mentioned, the East St. Louis Flyers overshadowed nearly every other conference team. Only Eric Graves, who finished second in the state meet in the high jump, was mentioned.

Graves, who jumped 6-feet 11-inches at Eastern Illinois' O'Brien Field at the state meet, was selected as the conference's best high jumper.

Debbie Brandt, who finished third in the discus throw at the state meet, was not selected in the girls' competition. Instead, conference officials elected Belleville East's Lisa Walker as the league's best girls discus thrower.

Brandt's throw of 130-feet 9-inches and imminent fourth-place finish in state, eclipsed Walker's efforts at the meet. Walker, who finished fifth, threw 124-feet 8-inches.

The distinguishing factor for being named to the conference team was placing in the conference meet. In that meet Walker bettered Brandt's.

Cancer Society golf tourney

The Quad-City area unit of the American Cancer Society will hold the Third Annual Two-Man Scramble Golf Tournament and Hole-In-One Contest at Arlington Golf Course on Sunday, June 30.

The two-person teams will compete for two $50 gift certificates and a first-place trophy in each of four flights. There will also be second, third- and fourth-place prizes in each of the four flights.

In addition, there will also be a hole-in-one contest on the fourth hole. The participant who makes the first or only hole-in-one will receive a 1985 Oldsmobile from Woodrome Oldsmobile. If a hole-in-one is made, the person who scores the closest to the hole after the hole-in-one is made will also receive $500. The person hitting the ball, closest to the hole, prior to the hole-in-one or if there is no hole-in-one, will receive a prize donated by Collinsville McDonald's Inc.

Each donation of $25 per person will entitle the golfers to green fees for 18 holes; participation in the hole-in-one contest; gifts donated by Gluks and Collinsville Mac. Inc.; refreshments during and after the tournament, and refreshments.

Reservations must be made by June 26. To participate golfers should send their names, a check made out to the American Cancer Society, and the approximate fee time desired (between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.) to: Jim Polman, 81 Shilwin Drive, Granite City, Ill. 62040. For additional information persons may call Polman at 931-0612.

Outdoors Stamps available, contest begins July 1

Waterfowl artists, hunters and conservationists may consider Monday, July 1, a double-barreled day. That is the day the annual Duck Stamp contest opens and the 1985-86 Duck Stamp goes on sale in post offices and other locations across the country.

The upcoming contest is to select the winning design to be used on the 1985-86 Duck Stamp (formally known as the Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamp). An announcement, published in the March 7, 1985, Federal Register, outlines the procedures and specifications artists should follow in entering the annual competition.

Also on July 1, the 1985-86 Duck Stamp featuring the cinnamon teal design of Gerald Mobley from Broken Arrow, Oklahoma, will go on sale. Duck Stamps are a required purchase for anyone 16 years of age or older who hunts waterfowl. Waterfowlers are not the only ones who contribute to wetlands conservation through purchase of the stamp. An ever-increasing number of birdwatchers, anglers, nature photographers, and others who enjoy the outdoors also contribute to the cause by purchasing Duck Stamps.

During the 50 years since the program began, nearly 90 million Duck Stamps have been sold, providing $85 million for the conservation of 3.5 million acres as part of the National Wildlife Refuge System which includes waterfowl production areas. While most refuge lands are vitally important to waterfowl, these areas also provide habitat for a number of other species such as deer, songbirds, and a number of endangered species.

The Duck Stamp contest is the only art competition regularly sponsored by the federal government. Each year the contest attracts thousands of entries depicting North American ducks, geese or swans in their natural habitat.

In general, the contest rules remain the same as in previous years, but this year the entry fee has been increased to $35 to help cover costs of administering the contest. The dominant feature of the design must be the portrayal of live, non-extinct, North American migratory ducks, geese, or swans of the family Anatidae. Beginning this year, a listing of all eligible species will be included in the rules. Species featured on the Duck Stamp during the previous 5 years are prohibited. For this year's contest, prohibited species include the American wigeon, pintail, cinnamon teal, canvasback, and ruddy duck.

Entries for the upcoming contest will be accepted by the Service beginning July 1, and must be postmarked no later than Oct. 1. The Department of the Interior auditorium, 18th and C streets, N.W., Washington, D.C., beginning at 9 a.m. each day. Copies of the rules and regulations for the 1985 Duck Stamp contest and the reproduction rights agreement (which must be signed by the entering artist) are available from: Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamp Contest, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20260.

This year's Duck Stamp may be purchased for $7.50 at most post offices and a number of national wildlife refuges, or ordered by mail for $8 (includes 50 cents for postage and handling) from the U.S. Postal Service, Philatelic Sales Division, Washington, D.C. 20265-9997.

Duck blind drawing Sunday

Area hunters interested in obtaining a duck blind location at nearby Horseshoe Lake should attend the public drawing this Sunday, June 23. The drawing will be for a total of 29 blind locations on the lake.

Registration for the blinds will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. with the drawing immediately following registration. The drawing will be at the picnic shelter at the main entrance of the park.

A registrant for the drawing must be at least 16 years of age and possess a current or preceding year's Illinois Hunting License, a current or preceding year's Illinois Migratory Waterfowl Stamp and a current or expired (within 12 months prior to the drawing) Firearms Owners Identification Card, unless exempted by law.

Persons exempted by law from possessing a hunting license or waterfowl stamp must have a valid Firearms Owners Identification Card.

Persons who are under 21 years of age who do not have a Firearms

Owners Identification Card must be accompanied by an adult who has a valid Firearms Owners Identification card in their possession at the drawing. Applicants must be present for the registration and drawing to be eligible for allocation of duck blind sites.

A limited supply of Hunting and Sportsmen's license and Illinois Migratory Waterfowl Stamps will be on sale at drawing.

For further information persons may call Horseshoe Lake Park office at 931-0270.

DOC expands dove hunting

SPRINGFIELD — Permit applications to hunt dove on six state-managed areas will be accepted July 8-31, according to Mike Conlin, Department of Conservation, Fish and Wildlife Division chief.

Conlin said hunters must use a formal application form to apply for permits this year. Forms are available on request at the DOC's Division of Fish and Wildlife in Springfield, DOC Regional Offices in Benton, Alton, Champaign, Sterling and Springfield, and the DOC Chicago office.

Applications for permits to hunt the first five days of the dove season on the six state-managed areas must be made by mail. No more than two applications per envelope will be accepted. Permits are non-transferable. "Dove Permit" must be written on the envelope.

Applications should be sent to Department of Conservation, Dove Permits, Division of Fish and Wildlife Resources, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Applications received before July 8 will be returned. Applications received after July 31 will be processed on first-come, first-served basis.

Hunting is by permit only Sept. 1-5. Following the first five days of the season, no permits are necessary for dove hunting. This year, all permit areas require 7½ shot or smaller or 8 steel.

Hunting will be restricted to 150 hunters per day at Green River; 95 per day at Des Plaines; 100 per day at Silver Springs; 50 per day at Sand Ridge; 80 per day at Kankakee River; and 60 per day at Sangchris Lake (30 in Field 1 located north of the area headquarters and 30 in Field 2 which is located on the middle peninsula and is accessible by boat only). Applicants for Sangchris Lake must identify which field they wish to hunt. Those selecting Field 2 must provide their own boat for access to the field.

Hunting is by permit only Sept. 1-5. Following the first five days of the season, no permits are necessary for

Rent-a-camps at 17 state campsites again this year

SPRINGFIELD — "Rent-A-Camp," the Department of Conservation program which has made tents and other camping necessities available on a rental basis for the past three years, is in operation again this year at 17 state parks, according to DOC Associate Director Charles Tamminga.

Tamminga, who heads the Department's Bureau of Lands and Historic Sites, said "ready-made, fully-equipped campsites will be offered until Oct. 31 at a charge of $8 for four-cot tents and $16 for eight-cot tents, in addition to the regular camping fees of $2 to $6 assessed at the individual campgrounds.

In the past, 14-by-14 foot eight-cot tents for large families are available at only a few of the 17 sites; most areas have four-cot tents. Only one to two Rent-A-Camps are available at each site.

Along with the tent, a charcoal grill, camp light, fire extinguisher, broom and trash pan, fire ring, picnic table and trash barrel are provided. All of the tents have canvas floors or are on wooden platforms for protection against inclement weather. Although reservations are not required for Rent-A-Camp facilities, they are recommended.

The program, launched in 1982 at four state parks, is intended as an inexpensive introduction to camping for those who have not yet tried it and as a service to experienced campers who do not own camping gear or cannot easily transport such equipment, Tamminga said.

Parks having Rent-A-Camp sites include: Apple River Canyon, Jo Daviess County; Jubilee College, northwest of Peoria; Mississippi Palisades, Carroll County; Lake Leavenworth, Stephenson County; Rock Cut, at Rockford; Chain O-Lakes, near Springfield; Fox Ridge, south of Charleston; Weldon Springs, near Clinton; and Moraine View, southwest of Bloomington.

Wolf Creek, on Lake Shelbyville; Kickapoo, west of Danville; Pere Marquette, near Alton; Eldon Hazel, on Lake Carlyle; Giant City, 12 miles south of Carbondale; Siloam Springs, on the Adams-Brown county line near Clayton; Potosi, near Potosi; and Stephen Forbes, near Kimmurday.

Two Rent-A-Camp units are offered at Kickapoo, Chain O-Lakes, Giant City, Pere Marquette, Hazel, Rock Cut, Wolf Creek and Stephen Forbes. The other locations have a single site. Large-family tents are offered at Potosi, Carlyle, Rock Cut, Wolf Creek and Stephen Forbes state parks.

Camping fees charged in addition to the $8 or $16 Rent-A-Camp fee are: $2 at Class D campgrounds — those having no vehicular access; $3 at Class C campgrounds — those having vehicular access; $5 for Class B sites — vehicular access, plus electrical service or showers; and $6 at Class A areas — electricity, showers, and vehicular access.

Campers may rent Rent-A-Camp facilities for up to 19 days. Check-in time is 4 p.m. Campers must check out by 9 a.m. the following day or the last day of their stay. No dogs or other pets are allowed. A deposit of one night's Rent-A-Camp fee is required to reserve a site. Deposits are not refundable.

Reservations are confirmed by the Conservation Department in writing. A sheet explaining check-in procedures and listing items campers should bring with them is sent with the confirmation notice.

Campers are responsible for the rental equipment, which is inventoried at the end of the user's stay. Reservation forms or further information may be obtained at the parksite or by writing to the Department of Conservation, in care of Rent-A-Camp, 524 South Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62706. The phone is 217-782-8752.

Street Machine Nationals next weekend

ST. CLAIR, Ill. — Entries are still being accepted for the Ninth Annual Car Craft Magazine Street Machine Nationals, scheduled for the St. Louis International Raceway Friday, June 28 through Sunday, June 30.

Entries are limited to the first 4,000 custom and "tricked-up" cars, trucks and specialty vehicles, which are vintage 1949 to present day. The Car Craft Magazine Street Machine Nationals is a three-day "picnic of power," where participants and spectators mingle in a relaxed family atmosphere and trade stories about their street machines.

Throughout the weekend the editorial staff of Peterson Publishing's Car Craft Magazine will be roaming the grounds of the Raceway to gather photographs and story material for feature layouts in future issues.

Last year in Springfield, more than 100,000 spectators attended the weekend-long event. Vehicle registration is $50. Entry fees received after the 4,000 vehicle limit is reached will be returned.

Peterson Publishing Special Events Department, 6725 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90028.

For more information, persons may also call (213) 657-5100, ext. 485. Those wishing to attend the show as a spectator can save $1 on each ticket purchased by buying them in advance at any St. Louis area Carquest store. Advance sale tickets will be available beginning June 3 for $5 for adults and $1 for children 6-12. Children under 6 will be admitted free.

Tickets will be on sale at the gate all three days of the show for $6 for adults and $2 for children 6-12.

DOC sponsors first triathelon

SHELBYVILLE — The Department of Conservation is seeking athletes to participate in the first Eagle Creek Triathlon, scheduled to begin at 8 a.m., Saturday, Aug. 3 at Eagle Creek State Park on the shores of Lake Shelbyville. Plans are to make the triathlon an annual event.

According to Dick Garfat, with DOC special events, the race will coincide with dedication ceremonies for the newly constructed swimming beach at Eagle Creek.

Participants will leave the beach at 8 a.m. for a three-quarter mile swim, followed by 11 miles of biking. The triathlon concludes with a four-mile foot race. Trophies, ribbons and other prizes will be awarded to top athletes competing in the event, Garfat said.

Complete details concerning the event will be announced later by the Conservation Department.

Persons wanting more information may contact Garfat at the Department of Conservation, (217) 785-5558.
